

CATARRH THEN CATARRH THEN CONSUMPTION

A cold in the head is a common ailment, but it rarely ever stops there. It often grows stubborn and protracted, the mucous membranes, or inner lining of the body, become inflamed and secrete a filthy, unhealthy matter which is absorbed by the blood and soon produces that disgusting disease, Catarrh. Then follow the unpleasant symptoms of "hawking and spitting," ringing noises in the ears, headache, poor appetite, mucus dropping back into the throat, and a feeling of general debility. Every day the blood becomes more heavily loaded with these poisonous secretions, and if the trouble is allowed to run on, the lungs become diseased from the constant passage of poisoned blood through them, and then Catarrh terminates in the most dreaded and fatal of all diseases, Consumption. The only way to get rid of Catarrh permanently is to cleanse the blood, and S. S. S. is the ideal remedy for this purpose. It soon clears the system of all impurities, purges the blood of all Catarrhal matter and poisons, and effectually checks the progress of this dangerous and far-reaching disease. S. S. S. keeps the blood in perfect order so that Catarrh cannot remain; and as this pure, healthy blood goes to every nook and corner of the body, the entire system is strengthened and invigorated, and the symptoms all pass away. Book with information about Catarrh and medical advice free.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE DECEMBER MAGAZINES

An American Merchant Marine.

The first step toward a further expansion of our over-seas commerce is to follow the example of every one of our mercantile rivals—from Great Britain in 1840 down to Germany in 1885 and Japan in 1896—and that is to create, by national aid, improved facilities of transportation. Just as instinctively as a great department store provides itself with its own men and wagons to deliver its own goods to its customers, instead of leaving this indispensable service to the mercy of its rivals, have the great mercantile nations of the world provided their own ships and seamen. The United States and Russia alone have left the carrying of their merchandise chiefly to their competitors in peace and possible enemies in war. Now Russia, at any rate, has learned her lesson. It is announced from St. Petersburg that the Czar's government will take vigorous measures to create a merchant marine, and that steamship lines with national subvention will be started at once from both the Baltic and the Black seas to New York.—From "America in Foreign Trade," by Winthrop L. Marvin, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for December.

Foster was a Lucky Reporter. It requires eternal vigilance for a reporter to bag his game, leaving not a single chance for escape. It might be further said, however, that the element of luck does creep in now and then, either to a newspaper man's advantage or to his ruin. When Reginald Foster was one of the craft, he

ON BAKING DAY.

When Papa in the Kitchen Meets Papa Baked in Dough.

When mamma she bakes pies and cakes. She lets me, don't you know. Stand close beside and watch her work And give me scraps of dough.

I roll out all the little bits An' cut 'em into shapes. An' on top of our big range I put 'em fer to bake.

ALL BAKED UP FAT IN DOUGH. I cut my papa out all nice, 'Wif less an' a big hat. An' as he comes he smells all up An' gets most awful fat.

He loses shape, so mamma says, By raising up so high. She says he gets so awful light It seems he wants to fly.

And when he comes, my papa, dear, At home to lunch, you know, I run and show him to himself All baked up fat in dough. —Exchange.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

The Way the Father of His Country Wrote His Signature.

In writing his signature Washington put his pen to the paper five times. First, he wrote the "G" W" in one connected line; second, he raised his hand and made the small "o" between the upper part of the "G" and "W" and the two dots; third, his hand and arm were placed in a position to write "ash"ing, these six letters occupying a breadth of almost exactly one and three-quarters of an inch. This is about as much of the arc of a circle (of which the center is the elbow pivoted on the table) as one with a forearm of average length can cause to coincide with the tangent, or the straight line, across the paper, which the lower parts of the letters follow unless unusual effort be made and a great deal more movement be given to the fingers. The "g" ends in a curved flourish, of which the convex side is turned upward below the right center of the name. Fourth, he wrote the final "on" fifth, he added the very peculiar flourish above the right center of the name, with the object of dotting the "i" and crossing the "t" at the same stroke.

MRS. V. F. CHURCH.

She is a Bank Cashier and a Successful Financier.

Mrs. V. F. Church, the efficient cashier of the Bank of Joplin, Mo., is a banker and "money woman" through and through from early training, her career having begun when she was yet in early girlhood. She grew up practically with the institution, almost from its foundation, and the success of the little Bank of Joplin may be attributed to a large measure to her rare ability and undagging energy.

The Bank of Joplin was organized as a private institution by T. W. Cunningham and George A. Case in 1882, but in a few years it passed into the sole proprietorship of the former, who has since remained at its head as president. It is under the jurisdiction of the state officials of Missouri. Nearly twenty years ago Mrs. Church entered the bank as its first clerk, and the books were under her care. Mr. Cunningham, being a supporter of woman's rights and realizing the value of his clerk, promoted her to the office of cashier, which position she has since held. As the bank grew the office force was gradually enlarged, and in a short while Miss Tillie Muller was made assistant cashier, and now the business of the institution demands the employment of three bookkeepers, all of whom are women. As a consequence it has become known as very much a woman's bank, the only other man besides Mr. Cunningham on the list of officers being Philip Arnold, vice president.

MRS. V. F. CHURCH.

The cashier, at the time of her marriage a few years ago to V. F. Church, a prominent business man of Joplin, was so interested in her work that notwithstanding her husband's entreaties she preferred to remain in it.

Useless Possessions.

"A bump of destructiveness, like a soft voice, is an excellent thing in a woman," remarked the housekeeper. "In a place where is little room to put things the facility for getting rid of useless possessions is a sine qua non of physical comfort and mental repose. But some women cannot bear to part with anything if there is the slightest possibility of its ever being of any use; and if about once in five years some of their treasured rubbish does come in handy they shout triumphantly, 'I told you so!' And sometimes things are hoarded without even the possibility of usefulness as an excuse, merely because one cannot bear to part with them. Old toys, old articles of clothing once worn by children, old furniture, all come under this category. The bump of destructiveness is much needed here. It is bad enough to be incumbered with the infinity of necessary things that one has to have without hoarding those that are useless or only remotely useful. But of course it does not do to let the bump of destructiveness run away with one. The faculty, like all others, must be exercised with discretion."

Happy Results.

Have Made Many Pensacola Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Pensacola citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Pensacola by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. David C. Wilson, wife of Capt. David C. Wilson, of the tug boat Columbia, and residing at 26 South Rens street, says: "If Doan's Kidney Pills had not benefited me nothing could induce me to recommend them either publicly or privately. I had a never-ceasing pain in the small of my back that made me nervous, and when I went about my work around the house the pain would be intense. Other symptoms of kidney complaint were noticeable and I decided to try to check the trouble before it became too deep-seated, and I sent to Sidney Kahn's drug store, No. 9 South Palafox street, and got Doan's Kidney Pills. Their use strengthened my kidneys, banished the backache and prevented the languor and depression that I felt mornings. I could do my housework without suffering, and I regained my usual energy and health."

Yellow Fever Convalescent's

After combating a siege of yellow fever and overcoming the disease itself, the victim is left weak, emaciated, and in a delicate condition of prostration.

Convalescence from yellow fever is a critical period, and only proper and careful treatment can prevent the resulting after-effects which so often produce ailments that sometimes terminate fatally.

After yellow fever and during convalescence, the patient should be given a treatment of Vinol, our cod liver preparation without oil, which is absolutely the very best tonic-reconstructor known.

It is delicious to the taste, sharpens the appetite, calms and strengthens the irritable weak stomach, promotes easy and perfect digestion of wholesome and nourishing food, and soothes, cleanses and heals the inflamed and sore membranes, and induces restful, refreshing sleep.

Thus, the nerves are quieted and invigorated, normal body weight and strength is gradually restored, the blood is purified and made plentiful, the thin body is fattened, and the whole system is built up, and kept up to perfect health and vigor.

Vinol is not a patent or "secret" medicine. Everything in it is plainly stated on every bottle label. We are personally familiar with every particle in it, and absolutely know that if properly used for a reasonable length of time, it will do the user the greatest possible good.

Bear in mind that we sell Vinol with the distinct understanding and guarantee that it shall cost you nothing if you derive no benefit from its use.

We will return to you every cent paid us for Vinol if it fails to do for you what we claim it will.

We stake our name and reputation on Vinol, and only real knowledge of the potency of Vinol could induce us to guarantee it to you, our neighbors, friends and acquaintances; and you are absolutely secure in putting complete faith and confidence in us and our offer.

Begin a treatment of Vinol to-day on our guarantee.
